

THE PINNACLE OF MULTIFACETED TALENT

Philip Keung 姜皓文

Philip Keung is a prominent Hong Kong actor who continues to establish himself as one of the most versatile performers in the region's entertainment industry. His journey to fame begins in 1986 when he competed in the inaugural 1st MR TV contest organized by Hong Kong Asia Television, where he earns the first runner-up position and the prestigious "Man of Talents" title. This early recognition marks the beginning of his successful career, during which he gains prominence through hosting variety shows and starring in numerous TV dramas.

Philip's career spans several decades, with a significant presence in both television and film. He participates in over one hundred films, earning critical acclaim for his performances in movies such as Crisis Negotiators, I Did It My Way, The Goldfinger, Warriors of Future, Sheep Without a Shepherd I & II, Time Raiders, Firestorm, A Witness Out of the Blue, Unbeatable, Shock Wave I & II, Liberation, Life Without Principle and Little Big Master.

THE OUTSTANDING MULTIFACETED ACTOR OF THE YEAR (HONG KONG)

In 2018, Philip won the Best Supporting Actor Award at the 37th Hong Kong Film Awards for his role in Shock Wave. He also earns nominations for Best Actor in the 38th Hong Kong Film Awards for Tracey and Best Supporting Actor in the 39th Hong Kong Film Awards for A Witness Out of the Blue. In 2020, he received the ADG Bright Star Award at the Chicago Asian Pop-up Cinema.

With a passion for filmmaking, Keung is currently pursuing his ambition as a director, bringing his creative vision to life. He remains dedicated to the industry, continuously striving to deliver compelling stories and performances that resonate with audiences worldwide.

