

TVB

THE BREAKTHROUGH PERFORMER OF THE YEAR (HONG KONG)

TSUI WING

In 1999, Tsui Wing joined TVB after participating in the 13th TVB Artist Training Class, becoming a member of the Artists' Association. In May 2006, he gained recognition for his role as Yan Guoji in the TVB drama "Dance of Passion."

Due to his role in the drama, he became affectionately known as "Uncle Guoji" by the audience. Additionally, in the TV drama "CIB Files" aired in August of the same year, he garnered attention for portraying a passionate OCTB detective alongside Li Yonghao. Their memorable performances in scenes involving marching, rolling, and door-kicking left a lasting impression on viewers.

In 2012, he took on his first leading role in the drama series "Come Home Love." Later, he made a guest appearance in the psychological thriller "Master of Play," playing the role of the eccentric killer Sam Chum, earning praise for his performance. In 2016, he participated in the sitcom "House of Spirits," playing Mei Zhao, the husband of Tang Lai-ming.

TVB'S CHARISMATIC STAR

In 2020, the TVB period family drama "The Ripping Sauce" premiered, with Tsui Wing playing the physically strong but simple-minded Wan Qijiang. In October of the same year, he appeared in the TVB comedy "The Witness," portraying Ye Mingjun, the Chief Strategic Officer (CSO) of a clothing manufacturing company.

On August 9, 2021, the inspirational family drama, "Battle Of The Seven Sisters" in which he played a leading role, premiered exclusively on myTV SUPER. On September 13, the heartwarming family drama "The Kwoks and What" aired, with Tsui Wing playing He Zhengfeng. He also participated in the TV drama "Flying Tiger III."

On May 2, 2022, the fantasy comedy "Stranger Anniversary," in which he played a leading role, premiered on myTV SUPER. On July 11, the TV drama "Communion" in which he participated aired. In September, he took part in the TVB documentary series "The Infinite Road 2: Priceless Protection." He also appeared in the TV drama "A Perfect Man."

On January 21, 2023, the TVB Lunar New Year comedy "Golden Bowl" premiered. On May 29, the TVB fashion suspense drama "Secret Door" aired. On July 31, the leading role in the TV drama "My Pet My Angel" premiered on Hong Kong's Jade Channel. On October 16, the TV drama "Romeo And His Butterfly Lover" in which he participated premiered exclusively on myTV SUPER.

